Building Exceptional Leaders

POLITICAL AGILITY

NAVIGATING THE POLITICAL LANDSCAPE

Have you prepared for a big presentation, only to have your idea dismissed immediately? Maybe you were passed over for that big promotion. It seems like the real conversations are happening behind closed doors.

As you climb vertically in an organization, your need to be politically savvy will increase exponentially. Fortunately, you can learn how to be more aware, adaptive, and relational. These skills allow you to unlock your potential to influence decisions and lead change more effectively.

WHAT DOES POLITICAL AGILITY LOOK LIKE?

- Understanding your key stakeholders and how they influence
- Knowing the structure, systems, and processes of your organization
- Developing your network of trusted relationships
- Communicating at the right time and understanding the impact of your words and actions

HOW TO ACCELERATE YOUR CAREER

- Planning key interactions
- Pushing complicated issues without becoming a "rightfighter"
- Organically measuring your own capital in a situation
- Working with and around "powerbrokers"
- Appropriately hedging your bets

WHAT WE OFFER

Our expert facilitators at inclineHR® are proud to offer a two-part training series on becoming more politically agile and understanding your influence.

Our training includes fun and dynamic learning exercises, including real-time feedback and group discussion, to ensure pull through and real-world application.

This training session can be delivered both virtually and in-person.

Consider adding individualized reports to your training for further self-reflection and personal development!
